

Unionfind implementation works better than a Breadth first search for Actor connections due to the fact that the graph is changing through the addition of each year. When new connections are constantly being made, union find will outperform BFS.